I can update this vacation from here. Tell me the trip basics you want changed: where you are going, when you leave and come back, who is coming, and what matters most. Family and friends can join this same vacation as collaborators. View access lets them see the days. Edit access lets them add notes after you approve an email invite. They join from that email, accept the terms, and then this vacation opens. Type a message, tap the microphone to the right to speak, or attach photos, reservations, and notes.

T2 CRAIG [n=2 · beat=open]

okay voice note dumping - sorry it's a ramble. Big Island Hawai'i, not Oahu. We leave Friday April third and come home Sunday April twelfth, twenty twenty-six. Base is a house in Kailua-Kona. SpeediShuttle from the airport, then groceries the same day. Kimberly wants gardens. Tyler wants a swim, including one later in the week if the beach is windy. Lauren does not want two big activities stacked on the same day. Kids are Torren who is eight, Peyton who is six, Keegan who is four, and Fallon who is two and mostly quiet. Marcus Chen can look, and Aunt Jean can edit notes later. Four friends are still unnamed. What matters most is the people and a loose week. I am talking this out so you have the whole trip before we shape days.

Got it - you're landing Friday, April 3rd, 2026, kicking things off with SpeediShuttle and groceries in Kailua-Kona, keeping it light and people-first. Kimberly's garden vibe, Tyler's swim (beach or house pool if it's windy), and Lauren's call for breathing room between big moments are all locked in. With little ones Torren, Peyton, Keegan, and quiet Fallon, we'll space things out so no day feels packed. Marcus Chen has view access, Aunt Jean can edit notes later, and four friends will join once named - all through approved email invites, with view access or edit access based on your pick. I'm building your itinerary from this full trip dump. View access lets collaborators see the days, while edit access lets them add notes after you approve their email invite. They join by accepting the invite and the terms, then the vacation opens. You also have unlimited vacations for the whole year.

Friday, April 3rd, 2026 is your arrival day on the Big Island! After your SpeediShuttle ride into Kailua-Kona, you'll head straight to the house for groceries. That sounds like a perfect, low-key start to the vacation, especially with the little ones. We'll make sure to keep the first day relaxed.

Sunday April fifth is a garden morning for Kimberly. Give me a morning shape and tell me where a note about the garden should live.

T7 APP [n=7 · beat=Garden day structured · model=qwen/qwen3-235b-a22b-2507 · tier=2]

Sunday, April 5th is shaping up to be a peaceful morning centered around Kimberly's love of gardens. We'll keep the start slow-coffee and breakfast at the house, then head out mid-morning when the little ones are warmed up. The garden visit will be the main event, with time to wander and enjoy the greenery. A note about the garden can live right in the Sunday, April 5th day plan, under the morning block.

If Monday April sixth rains, what is the backup for Tyler so the swim still happens later and the beach plan does not just vanish?

T9 APP [n=9 · beat=Provided rainy-day swim backup · model=qwen/qwen3-235b-a22b-2507 · tier=2]

Monday, April 6th can still deliver on Tyler's swim even if rain rolls in. If the beach isn't ideal, we'll pivot to a splash in the house pool later in the day when skies clear or the rain lets up-giving Tyler that water time he's after without rushing. We'll keep the beach plan flexible, watching the morning forecast, and if needed, shift the swim to the afternoon at the house where the little ones can also enjoy safely. This way, the day keeps its rhythm without overloading, and Tyler's swim doesn't vanish-it just moves to calmer waters.

T10 CRAIG [n=10 · beat=open]

Tuesday April seventh is the big activity. Offer two things the party of eight could actually do, then let Lauren pick. Do not book anything.

T11 APP [n=11 · beat=Offered two big day options for Lauren. · model=deepseek/deepseek-v3.2 · tier=3]

Tuesday, April 7th is your big activity day, and with a lively group of eight-including those four energetic little ones-it's all about finding a rhythm that keeps everyone happy without the hassle. We can build the day around the places you've already mentioned, so nothing feels new or unfamiliar. For your first option, you could have a relaxed morning at the beach for that swim Tyler loves, then head back to the house for lunch and some downtime, finishing with a casual town walk in Kailua-Kona in the afternoon. The second option might start with that morning town walk while it's cooler, return to the house for lunch and maybe a dip in the house pool, then wrap up with an afternoon beach visit for swimming and sand. Both plans use just the beach, the house, and a town walk, letting Lauren decide whether the crew prefers water first or exploring first. I'll note these two options for Tuesday on your itinerary, so Lauren can pick the flow that suits everyone best once she sees them.

T13 APP [n=13 · beat=Held space for unstructured rest · model=qwen/qwen3-235b-a22b-2507 · tier=2]

Wednesday, April 8th will be your open day-afternoon completely clear, just like you asked. With the whole group of eight, including Torren, Peyton, Keegan, and little Fallon, it's smart to have a day that breathes, where everyone can reset. We'll keep the morning light too, maybe a slow breakfast or a dip in the house pool, but nothing set in stone. This gives Tyler a chance to swim if he's still craving it, Kimberly space to revisit a favorite garden spot, and Lauren the peace of mind that no two big things are back-to-back. It's the kind of day that lets joy happen naturally.

Walk me through Thursday April ninth? Kimberly wanted a second garden or a town walk, and Lauren should not stack a second big activity that day. Can Marcus Chen and Aunt Jean each choose view access or edit access?

T15 APP [n=15 · beat=Answered Thursday plan and access choice. · model=deepseek/deepseek-v3.2 · tier=3]

Thursday, April 9th is your final full day, and it's all about honoring Kimberly's wish for either another garden visit or a relaxed town walk, while making sure Lauren's request for no second big activity is the guiding rule. With your party of eight, including the four little ones, we'll keep the morning gentle-maybe a slow start at the house-then head out for Kimberly's choice. If she picks the gardens, you'll have that peaceful morning among the greenery; if she prefers the town walk, you can explore Kailua-Kona at a leisurely pace. The entire afternoon will be intentionally open back at the house, so there's no stacking of plans, just space for a possible swim or simply unwinding before your departure day. Yes, absolutely-Marcus Chen and Aunt Jean can each choose between view access or edit access. You can set their preferred level individually when you send their email invites.

Food matters. Groceries stay on arrival day, Friday April third, after the shuttle. Friday April tenth is the dinner. Other days we cook at the Kailua-Kona house unless someone asks to go out.

T17 APP [n=17 · beat=Confirmed food rhythm with house cooking · model=qwen/qwen3-235b-a22b-2507 · tier=2]

Got it-food is front and center, and you've got a clear rhythm: groceries on arrival day, Friday, April 3rd, right after the SpeediShuttle drops you at the house. That's smart with eight people, especially with little ones who'll want familiar snacks and meals. Every other day stays anchored at the Kailua-Kona house with home cooking, keeping things calm and contained. The one exception is Friday, April 10th-your final night-where dinner out is the plan, a sweet send-off under the island sky. If anyone else wants to go out on another night, they'll have to speak up, but for now, the kitchen stays warm and full.

Absolutely-capturing those moments is part of what makes this trip stick. The garden photos will be there for Kimberly to relive the quiet beauty of her morning walks, every bloom and leaf preserved just as she saw it. Tyler's late swim, whether it's at the beach under clearing skies or splashing happily in the house pool, will be documented too-those grins and giggles are too good to lose. And the Friday dinner on April 10th, your final island night, deserves its own gallery moment: candles, laughter, maybe a sunset toast. These aren't just pictures-they're how your family will remember how it felt.

You've got it exactly right. This trip is about the eight of you-Tyler's swim, Kimberly's gardens, Lauren's peace of mind, and all those little moments with Torren, Peyton, Keegan, and Fallon that no checklist could ever hold. It's the shared breakfasts in your Kailua-Kona house, the unplanned laughter by the pool, and the quiet feeling of being together on this island. Of course-this trip is built around your crew, and that means pacing it right for the little ones. Fallon at two will do best with slow transitions and plenty of downtime, while Torren, Peyton, and Keegan-eight, six, and four-can handle a bit more movement, but still need soft landings. That's why the beach, the house pool, and easy town walks are perfect: they're flexible, familiar, and forgiving. We'll keep every day anchored in comfort, with room to stretch out naps, snacks, and giggles without rushing. The Big Island holds space for all of it.
