Welcome. I am here to build this vacation with you. Your website is not built yet, so this chat is the whole workspace until it is actually up. Tell me the trip basics: where you are going, when you leave and come back, who is coming, and what matters most. If family or friends are coming, we can welcome them onto this vacation as collaborators. View access lets them see the days. Edit access lets them add notes after you approve an email invite. They join from that email, accept the terms, and then this vacation opens. Type in the box, tap the microphone to the right of it and speak, or use the paperclip for photos, reservations, and notes.

okay voice note dumping - sorry it's a ramble. Big Island Hawai'i, not Oahu. We leave Friday April third and come home Sunday April twelfth, twenty twenty-six. Base is a house in Kailua-Kona. SpeediShuttle from the airport, then groceries the same day. Kimberly wants gardens. Tyler wants a swim, including one later in the week if the beach is windy. Lauren does not want two big activities stacked on the same day. Kids are Torren who is eight, Peyton who is six, Keegan who is four, and Fallon who is two and mostly quiet. Marcus Chen can look, and Aunt Jean can edit notes later. Four friends are still unnamed. What matters most is the people and a loose week. I am talking this out so you have the whole trip before we shape days.

Got it - Big Island it is, with your crew landing Friday, April 3 and settling into the Kailua-Kona house. Groceries that same day, swim plans flexible for later in the week depending on the wind, and gardens on the list for Kimberly. Lauren's pacing note is locked in: no back-to-back heavy days. We'll keep things loose, people-first, and centered around your crew - including little Fallon, the quiet observer, and the four unnamed friends still to join. View access lets people like Marcus Chen see the days. Edit access lets someone like Aunt Jean add notes after you approve an email invite. They join from that email, accept the terms, and then this vacation opens. Building your itinerary now from your full trip dump. Collaborator roles are ready when you are: View access lets them see the days. Edit access lets them add notes after you approve an email invite. It sounds like a smooth arrival day is planned for Friday, April 3rd. After your SpeediShuttle ride into Kailua-Kona, you'll head to the house and then pick up groceries. It's wise to keep that first day light. Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean will appreciate a relaxed start. We'll build the rest of the week around everyone's preferences.

Sunday, April 5th is shaped around Kimberly's garden morning, so we'll keep the vibe soft and slow to match Lauren's style, too. The whole group - Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean - can linger at the house over breakfast before the garden outing. With groceries already stocked from Friday's stop, there's no rush to jump into town. A note about the garden should live directly on the Sunday, April 5th itinerary block so it's front and center when anyone reviews the day.

Monday, April 6th is already set for the beach swim, and if it rains in the morning, the plan simply shifts to wait it out - the ocean isn't going anywhere. Tyler's swim can happen in the afternoon if the weather clears, or even late-day when the clouds lift and the water warms back up. Since the group is staying at the Kailua-Kona house, you're close enough to the coast to make quick judgment calls without losing time or energy. We'll keep the day open-ended so the swim feels natural, not forced, and everyone - including Torren, Peyton, Keegan, and little Fallon - can enjoy it without stress.

Tuesday, April 7th is your big activity day for the whole crew. Given you've got Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean all together, one option is a morning swim at the beach, which fits with what you've planned for swimming. The other option is a town walk in Kailua-Kona for a laid-back look around before you head back to the house. Both ideas use the places you already have in mind and let Lauren choose between a beach swim or a walk in town. We'll leave it to her to pick which way to go for your final group outing.

Exactly right-this whole trip is about Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, little Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean sharing the same air on the Big Island, not checking boxes. The garden on Sunday and the swim on Monday are just the backdrop for everyone to be together, and cooking at the house most nights means more time around the same table. The photos will matter because they're of the people in those places, not just the places themselves. We'll keep it all right here, anchored in the rhythm of your week at the Kailua-Kona house.

The garden on Sunday, the swim on Monday, and the town walk are all low-pressure moments where the kids can move at their own speed. Mornings can be for light exploring, afternoons open for naps, pool dips, or sandbox time at the house. We'll keep everything unhurried so the grown-ups can actually talk, laugh, and breathe in the island air with the kids in tow.

Thursday April ninth can be a town walk. That is not my big day.

Thursday, April 9th works just right for the town walk-no big fanfare, just a relaxed stretch of time with the group. The garden visit is already set for that day too, so it flows easy: morning gardens, then a stroll through Kailua-Kona with Craig, Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean. Everyone can move at their own pace, maybe pause for a treat or a quiet moment by the water. It's all about honoring the rhythm you've already shaped, with space to breathe between the moments that matter.

Keep Wednesday April eighth afternoon empty for the whole party, and stay in Kailua-Kona.

Wednesday, April 8th afternoon will stay wide open for the whole group-no bookings, no schedule, just pure flexibility. Craig, Kimberly, Tyler, Lauren, Torren, Peyton, Keegan, Fallon, Marcus Chen, and Aunt Jean can use that time however they need: a quiet nap, last-minute beach play, or simply lounging at the Kailua-Kona house with groceries nearby and the ocean breeze rolling in. Staying put in Kailua-Kona keeps everything grounded and easy, no packing up, no rush. We'll hold the energy light and let the day unfold naturally, just like the rhythm of the island.
