Welcome. I am here to build this vacation with you. Your website is not built yet, so this chat is the whole workspace until it is actually up.

Tell me the trip basics: where you are going, when you leave and come back, who is coming, and what matters most.

If family or friends are coming, we can welcome them onto this vacation as collaborators. View access lets them see the days. Edit access lets them add notes after you approve an email invite. They join from that email, accept the terms, and then this vacation opens.

Type in the box, tap the microphone to the right of it and speak, or use the paperclip for photos, reservations, and notes.

Onboarding: Building the itinerary

post-purchase-email-eula.md

The app says it is building the itinerary from the intake.

Island, your house base in Kailua-Kona, and everyone from Kimberly with her gardens to Tyler planning for swims, all with a focus on a relaxed pace for the people. I'll start building the itinerary from this. To clarify access: view access lets someone like Marcus Chen see the full itinerary days. Edit access allows someone like Aunt Jean to add notes later. People join from an approved email invite; once they accept the terms, this vacation opens for them. Now, let's shape those loose days. We have from Friday, April 3rd to Sunday, April 12th. The first day is travel, with the SpeediShuttle and groceries. For the week, we can space things out just as Lauren prefers—no stacking big days. We can plan a garden visit for Kimberly and separate swims for Tyler, maybe one at the beach and another at the house pool later if it's windy. With the four kids in mind, we'll keep the flow easy. Where would you like to start? We can block out a potential garden day and a beach day, or talk through how to weave in a town walk and dinners.

Welcome aboard, Kimberly! It's great to have you officially on the trip. Craig got you a coupon, and now you're in, ready to help shape those garden visits and quiet moments you love. We'll keep everything right here on the Big Island, just as planned focusing on the gentle pace for the kids and those special times together at the house. An eye for the gardens will be perfect for helping capture those photos to remember.
